Till Tapping in McCrory's Establishment.*SOME ONE MUST HAVE HAD KEY

No Traces of Intruder Are Found. Theft Denied at Store But It Was Reported to Police That Nearly $250 Was Secured—Broke Drawer Open.

A mysterious robbery has been reported to the police and while efforts were made to surprise all the details it is learned that between $225 and $250 was taken from the cash drawer early Sunday morning. The loss was discovered when the manager went to the store Sunday morning. He found everything all right until the cash drawer was reached and then it was found that the till had been pried open and the money extracted.

The matter was reported to Burgess J. L. Evans, who, with Chief of Police Rottler, conducted an investigation. No trace of the intruder could be found, as there was no evidence that either the doors or the windows had been pried open. The only place force was used was on the cash drawer.

Beside the management of the 5 and 10 Cent Store, a Masonic meeting is an open session, and no details would be given out.

"Nothing to it," was all that the reporters got when they dropped around this morning for a heart-to-heart conference with the management.

The police also maintained a stony silence, claiming that premature announcement of the theft would secure the robber off. The loss was too large to be wholly concealed, however, and a few scattered details leaked out. It was learned that everything in the store was all right at midnight Saturday when the manager closed up for the night. It being too late to bank the receipts, the money was left in the cash drawer. All of it was missing the next morning.

Naturally suspicions points to an employee of the store, who would have means of easy access, but all of these matters are being kept in the dark.

STRIKERS OBJECT

To Statement That Injunction Papers Have Been Served.

The striking machinists of the Baltimore & Ohio declare that no injunction papers were served upon them, but that the papers served were notices for them to appear in the United States District Court August 30 when application is to be made for a preliminary injunction. Another session of the court is to be held the first Monday in October at which, if the preliminary injunction is granted, it will be made permanent. The strikers declare no injunction has been granted against them as has been reported.

The local men say that there has been no violence or interference on their part and that there will be none, and further that on this account no injunction could affect them. One of the men today stated that all the men could secure work, one company writing him for 50 men. The strikers seem to be satisfied with the conditions of affairs while the company officials say that they are perfectly contented.

GIVING UP SEARCH.

Police Believe That Murderer of Mrs. Satarikos Has Left Country.

Believing that George Satarikos, the Assyrin wanted in McKeesport for the murder of his beautiful young wife some weeks ago, has left the country, the police are slowly relaxing their vigilance in this section. In Uniontown, Connellville and Scottsdale the officers have been keeping a sharp lookout for the missing man and the houses of his relatives in Scottsdale and Uniontown have been under almost constant surveillance since the crime was committed.

Although the police will still keep a keen eye for the missing man there will be a let up in the search to some extent.

For Having a Gun.

Carbide Olmsted of Latrobe, was arrested last Saturday by Deputy Game Warden James Frew for having in his possession a shot gun. Later on in the day he was taken to the Westmoreland county jail at Greensburg. John Sunrock of Greensburg, was committed to jail for carrying concealed weapons.

Open First Store.

The Consumers' Supply Company expects to open its first store in Smithfield September 1. The corporation will have seven of them, one to be located at Connellville.

Four Cows Held Up Train
On the Indian Creek Valley.

Travellers on the Indian Creek Valley railroad were yesterday reminded of that delightful story "On a Slow Train Through Arkansas," when four cows got on the track as the train was winding its way to Rogers Mills. At the point where the cows got on the track it is rather narrow and there was not enough room for the cows and the train to pass, so they hiked along the track for about a mile in front of the train, while the engine ran slow.

After worrying along for a good spell Lawrence G. Schick, one of the big stockholders in the road, jumped off the train and shooed the cows up the side of the mountain. The passengers enjoyed the experience greatly although it delayed many in getting to their destination.

About three hundred passengers were aboard the train at the time and all of them were bent upon a Sunday outing in the mountains which were delightful yesterday.

A REMARKABLE RECORD.
Worked in Old Slope Mine Quarter of Century.

For the past 25 years, Joseph Littleman, of Wilson avenue, Greensburg, has worked continually in the old slope mine, averaging 150 tons per month or 1,800 tons per year, making in all about 45,000 tons. He is a practical miner and has devoted 40 years of his life to work under the surface. He claims that mine disasters are caused by the use of electrical machinery in the mines, stating that frequent explosions have happened early since machinery and mine appliances have been driven by electricity.

MINE WORKERS THRESH OUT POWDER QUESTION

National Board Members at Meeting to Discuss Grievances Over Explosives.

WASHINGTON, Pa., Aug. 23.—Members of the National Executive Board, United Mine Workers of America, held a meeting yesterday at Ligonier, Pa., near Monaca, to discuss conditions arising from the attempt to substitute carbonite for black powder in the mines. Joseph Wall of Monaca, was chairman. Among the speakers were James Joseph of Missouri, a National organizer, and Timothy Donovan, National Secretary of the United Mine Workers. Martin Flycia, from the anthracite region, spoke in Slavish. Although miners of the Monaca, Mahoning, Budd and Clinton mines and the mines of the Peoples Coal Company are on strike, refusing to use carbonite, they were not told to return to work, as it is said, the men went out without the sanction of the union. In a discussion of whether carbonite reduced the earnings of miners it was pointed out that the operators have no option regarding the use of explosives, but must comply with the orders of the mine inspectors.

Miners refused to use the new explosive because, they say, it breaks the coal too fine and reduces their earnings. At a recent conference of coal operators in Pittsburgh a committee composed of officers and operators was instructed to investigate the new explosive. At a meeting today at Bellefonte it was decided to refer the matter of explosives back to the coal company.

Miners say that if operators are willing to pay the men on a run-of-the-mine basis they will use carbonite. The meeting, represented miners of Nos. 2 and 4 mines of the Pittsburgh Coal Company at Pricedale. District President Francis Feehan and George Guzzi, a district board member, were speakers.

DOG KILLED.

Andy Haas' Canine Falls Over Dashboard and Is Fatally Hurt.

Tess, the dog owned and prized by Andrew Haas, proprietor of the Haas Hotel, was chloroformed this morning. She went to the Lederkrantz picnic yesterday and coming home occupied her usual place standing against the dashboard of the buggy. In going over a rough place in the road the dog was thrown from her place to the ground and was so badly injured that Dr. Sherrick put her out of the dog world this morning with chloroform. The dog was a highly prized one, having been secured in Latrobe by John Doyle for Mr. Haas. It was well known about town and could be seen almost every day riding in the buggy and tugging over the dashboard.

Free Methodists Fold Their Tents and Leave the Community.

The Free Methodists who have been holding a camp meeting in Hogg's orchard on the West Side folded their tents and marched away today after having held a ten days' gathering. Yesterday and last night were the biggest times of the whole camp meeting, although there were some hot spells during the time that the Holy Rollers held forth in the grove.

The sect came from all parts of Western Pennsylvania, but there is no church in Connellville. They encamped here 11 years ago, and their method of worship at that time attracted many hundreds to their meetings just as it did this time.

Their singing is of a peculiar type and their enthusiasm is unique. During one evening last week the camp

VICIOUS ATTACK MADE ON CANNON.

Congressman Fowler Accuses Speaker of Both Treachery and Ignorance.

COULD HAVE AVERTED PANIC

Former Chairman of Committee on Banking Says Cannon Hooted at Idea of a Panic and Would Permit No Preventive Legislation.

United Press Telegram.

ELIZABETH, N. J., Aug. 22.—A sensational attack upon Speaker Joseph G. Cannon of the House of Representatives was made today in an open letter addressed to him by Representative Charles N. Fowler, father of the Fowler currency bill and former Chairman of the House Committee on Banking. Speaker Cannon refused to accept Mr. Fowler, who was a prominent "insurgent."

The letter recites the fact that Cannon opposed Fowler's scheme to avert the panic of 1907 and adds: "You literally hooted at the idea of a panic. You inquired: 'What in hell does the howling of Wall street amount to the country.' The country does not care what happens to speculators. Everything is all right in the West. The country doesn't need any legislation."

"As usual your ignorance and prejudice was all sufficient then but the public came, as every man of intelligence knew it would."

Congressman Fowler accuses Speaker Cannon of treachery and traitorous acts and says he conspired with Senator Aldrich to "back" the conference committee on the tariff bill against the House bill. The publication of the letter has caused a great sensation because of the prominence of both parties in Congress. Mr. Fowler, as head of the Congressional Banking Committee, proposed an asset currency scheme when money became scarce in the fall of 1907 but the bill did not get through Congress. He is considered one of the most able men in the lower house but broke with the Republican organization leaders and fought through the tariff bill along side the "insurgents" from the Middle West.

MINING MEN TO MEET IN NEVADA.

Will Gather at Goldfield From September 27 to October 2.

FAYETTE MEN MAY GO

J. V. Thompson of Uniontown is a State Vice President—Discussions on All Kinds of Mining With Silver a Lively Topic.

The twelfth annual session of the American Mining Congress will be held at Goldfield, Nevada, September 27 to October 2, and will likely be attended by number of Fayette county men, who are members of the Congress. Among those who will probably go to the meeting are J. V. Thompson and Fred C. Kishley of Uniontown. Mr. Thompson is the State Vice President for Pennsylvania.

A program is being arranged which will include a discussion of various matters pertaining to the welfare and progress of the mining industry, the aim being to give greater opportunity for practical discussion, and consume less time in the reading of technical papers.

During the past year the Congress has had several committees at work conducting investigations, report of which will be made to this session. These reports will be open for discussion, and the committees reporting are as follows:

Committee on Vertical Slide-Lane Law: By George W. Riter, Salt Lake City, Utah, Chairman.

Committee on Coal Tax Insurance Fund: By Samuel A. Taylor, Pittsburgh, Pa., Chairman.

Committee on General Revision of Mining Laws: By Walter R. Ingalls, New York City, Chairman.

Committee on Standardization of Electrical Equipment: By Dr. Edward B. Ross, Washington, D. C., Chairman.

Committee on Prevention of Mine Accidents: By H. Foster Bain, San Francisco, Cal., Chairman.

Committee on National Forest Service: By Col. A. G. Brownlee, Denver, Col., Chairman.

Committee on Alaskan Mining Laws: By J. L. Steele, Lundlock, Alaska, Chairman.

The silver question will be discussed with a view to devising means of bringing about a great use of silver, and decreasing the rate of exchange between the United States and countries using a silver standard. Sir Moreton Frowen, of London, England; James J. Hill and John Hays Hammond have been invited to speak on this subject.

Goldfield citizens are making elaborate arrangements for showing the district to the delegates, and the State of Nevada has appropriated $5,000.00 to pay the expense of collecting and classifying a comprehensive display of the State's minerals, which is being installed at Goldfield.

The Congress will consist of the regular members of the organization, and all duly appointed delegates, who have equal powers in all the deliberations of the open body. Mining men contemplating attendance should address the Secretary at Denver, Colorado, for more complete information.

Veteran Conductor, 65 Years Old, Has the Whooping Cough.

Whooping cough is no respecter of persons. It has all seasons and all ages for its own, which can be verified by Andy McClintock the veteran West Penn conductor. Although the whooping cough is five weeks old already in Andy's case it has just come to light the kind of ailment that has been troubling him.

He coughed and coughed so much that he was compelled to go on the sick list of the West Penn and the ailment has travelled through its various stages and has reduced his flesh considerably.

McClintock is 65 years old, and never in his life had the whooping cough before. He is a firm believer in the idea of having all the little ailments when a baby since the whooping cough caught him.

It will probably be several weeks before he is able to resume his duties, meanwhile Andy is endeavoring to make the best out of a bad situation.

GOVERNMENT TO INVESTIGATE

United States District Attorney Jordan Says He Will Draw Up the Information if Evidence Warrants Such Action.

United Press Telegram.

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 23.—If sufficient evidence is found as the result of an inquiry by the Government into charges that peonage is in force at the works of the Pressed Steel Car Company, I shall make information against President Hoffstott myself.

That is the statement of United States District Attorney Jordan upon his return here to go into conference with his assistants regarding the charges that have already been brought. President F. N. Hoffstott and Samuel Cohn are defendants in charges of peonage brought before United States Commissioner William T. Lindsay by Albert Vamos, one of the men who alleges that he was detained at the plant against his will; and that, when attempting to leave, was so badly beaten up by employees of the plant he was sent to the hospital.

The charges of Vamos were made in the form of an affidavit sworn to before Austro-Hungarian Vice Consul Edgar L. G. Prochnick, who is prosecuting an investigation. District Attorney Jordan says that under the interpretation of the information that has already been made, Hoffstott could escape prosecution by saying that he was in New York and knew of the affair. The only charge that could stand would be that of assault and battery. The Government will conduct a rigid investigation into the matter.

Martial law is being enforced in Schoenerville by the State Constabulary today and every one entering the town is searched for arms and is not allowed to remain unless he can give a satisfactory account of his presence. All the populace is kept moving and is not allowed to stop for an instant along the streets.

It is said that Sheriff A. C. Gumbert has appealed to the Governor for an additional detail of the State Constabulary to preserve order.

IRWIN, Pa., Aug. 23.—Towns along Brush creek, between Irwin and Jeannette, have been notified by the State Board of Health that use of the stream as an outlet for sewage must cease. The creek in summer maintains little more than a shoe-wetting stage. Jeannette pour practically all of its sewage into it.

West Jeannette and Penn residents, persons riding on open trolley cars and passengers on railroad trains complain bitterly about the unsanitary condition of the stream. The State Board some time ago notified the Jeannette Council to prepare plans for a sewage-disposal plant.

Brakemen Lead in the Casualties for Six Months.

HARRISBURG, Pa., Aug. 23.—Figures compiled by the State Railroad Commission on the accidents to employees of the railroads of Pennsylvania during the first six months of the present year show that brakemen lead in the casualties, 42 having been killed and 804 injured. Section men and work train laborers were next, with 37 killed and 399 injured, and conductors were third, with 12 fatal and 203 non-fatal accidents. In all 141 employees were killed and 2,738 injured from January 1 to June 1.

LOSE FAITH IN THE BLOODHOUNDS

Dog Put on the Trail Races Around in Circle and Comes Back to Beginning.

UNIONTOWN, Aug. 23.—Three Uniontown officers are going to post a motto in the police station. It will read: "Put not your faith in bloodhounds."

Following the discovery of a Pennsylvania freight car which had been robbed of $50 or $75 worth of merchandise consigned to the Union Supply Company, Officers Uhl, Gane and Hoffman secured a bloodhound and struck the trail. The dog didn't seem much interested, but for the looks of things led them through the McCormick addition and then out to Oliver again, after coming back to the starting point. When the canine showed a disposition to hike towards Shady Grove the officers thought it time to quit.

The robbery occurred sometime during the night near "VA" tower. The only trace found was a point where the men, evidently two of them, had stopped to put on stolen shirts and discarded their old ones, which were both soiled and tattered.

SCHEMES ADVANCED TO LAND BUSINESS.

Suggestions Made Today for Chamber of Commerce Work.

WOULD LAND SUBSCRIPTIONS

Monthly Sum Pledged for a Year Would Pay Secretary, Room Rent and Other Necessary Expenditures. Mining Machinery Exposition Advocated.

About the Chamber of Commerce situation, which is still hanging fire, a prominent business man came to the front this morning with a scheme he has outlined and which he believes would be productive of good results. The suggestions are assuming that the Chamber of Commerce is the best scheme by which the town may be benefited, but any bright young man with a better scheme will get hearty support in one quarter, at least, if he makes his plan known.

It has been suggested that a thorough canvass of the business interests of Connellville be made and secure, if possible, a monthly contribution, to continue for one year. This contribution is to be, in size, just as much as the merchant or business man thinks the idea is worth. The funds derived from this source would be sufficient to pay room rent, the salary of a secretary and such expenses that might be incurred for sending a representative of the town to other points in search of business and entertain those who come here in search of sites and with an idea of locating in this vicinity.

In general, the scheme of the Chamber of Commerce should be, first to encourage and add home industries. The manufacturing establishments already within the borders should be helped in every way. Then a concerted effort should be made to land outside industries. Data should be collected as to sites and maps made out showing the location of sites, the railroad connections and other data. Information of every kind should be

As The Twig Is Bent The Tree Inclines. Early training—out environment during youth and the lessons we are taught in childhood have a distinct bearing on our later years. If you teach your boy to be careful of his pennies while he is young he will know how to take care of his dollars later on. Every child should be taught the value of money—not to be stingy, but to be prudent and saving—as a matter of self-protection. A Savings Account is a great help in showing how money accumulates and such accounts may be opened for any boy or girl with The First National Bank of Connellsville. Animal Resents Felix Tot's Flinging Harshness.

Felix Tot, a driver for the Frick company at the Baggsley mine near Latrobe, while engaged in adjusting the harness upon his mule, deemed it safe to turn his back to the rear end of the mule, for an instant. The mule evidently resented the "bad form" for it let go with its heels, taking Mr. Tot in the small of the back, with the result that the mule will have a strange driver for a few days while Mr. Tot recovers from the pain. The mule was not hurt, and from the shock which he received.

TIME OF THE NATION.

How It Is Kept at the Naval Observatory in Washington.

THE SIGNAL FOR HIGH NOON

It is Flashed Out Over Nearly a Million Miles of Telegraph Wires Every Day in the Year—The Finely Adjusted Instruments That Are Used.

A few minutes before 12 o'clock noon every day in the year a young man walks into a certain room of the main building at the naval observatory, which is set up on a hill in the northwestern part of the District of Columbia. He glances at the various clocks in the room and then goes over to a table which is covered with electric apparatus.

He watches the clocks to his left closely and waits for the hands to reach 11:55. As the second hand approaches the 60 on the dial he prepares to shift a switch. The clock is so finely adjusted that when the second hand points to 00 it exactly marks the beginning of a new minute.

As it touches the 00 the switches are thrown on. That starts a signal that goes out instantaneously over 600,000 miles of telegraph lines, in Washington, New York, Buffalo, Cleveland, Newport, Baltimore, Newport News, Norfolk, Savannah, New Orleans, Key West, Galveston, Chicago and elsewhere the time balls go up on their poles. People know that it is five minutes to noon, Washington time. The clock which keeps the time in the observatory ticks on. With each tick there is a contact of electric points. A circuit is closed, and an instrument on the table similar in appearance to a telegraph sounder ticks away loudly.

It goes on to the twenty-ninth second, then skips one tick, then resumes its steady ticking until the last five seconds; then there is another gap. These gaps are for the purpose of giving listeners at the other ends of the great system of wires a chance to know what part of the minute the clock is on. So it goes up to the last minute.

At the twenty-ninth second there is again the skipping of one second. Finally the clock gets around to the sixtieth second. Then the circuit remains open for ten seconds. There is silence all along the telegraph wires.

At the other end, where there are time balls or merely train operators, the long pause indicates that noon is almost there. The second hand makes on toward 00 and finally reaches the mark. Then there is another tick; in about a second the sounder is down, and that tells hundreds of thousands of people that it is noon in Washington.

It is a wonderful operation, this getting the time, and highly technical. Finely adjusted clocks, chronographs and other instruments of great value are used, and the taking and recording of the time have reached a point where the human equation is practically eliminated.

The results obtained are of great value, particularly to mariners. The time is not only flashed to hundreds of points in the United States, but it is sent far out to sea by wireless. A cable carries the time to Hawaii; another to Panama and Callao, Peru.

The observatory here does not send the time much farther west than the Rockies, but they have an observatory at the Mare Island navy yard, and from there the time is sent up and down the Pacific coast, just as it is from here to the eastern part of the United States. In the cities where the central time is used the flash marks 11 o'clock. An hour later local operators drop the time balls.

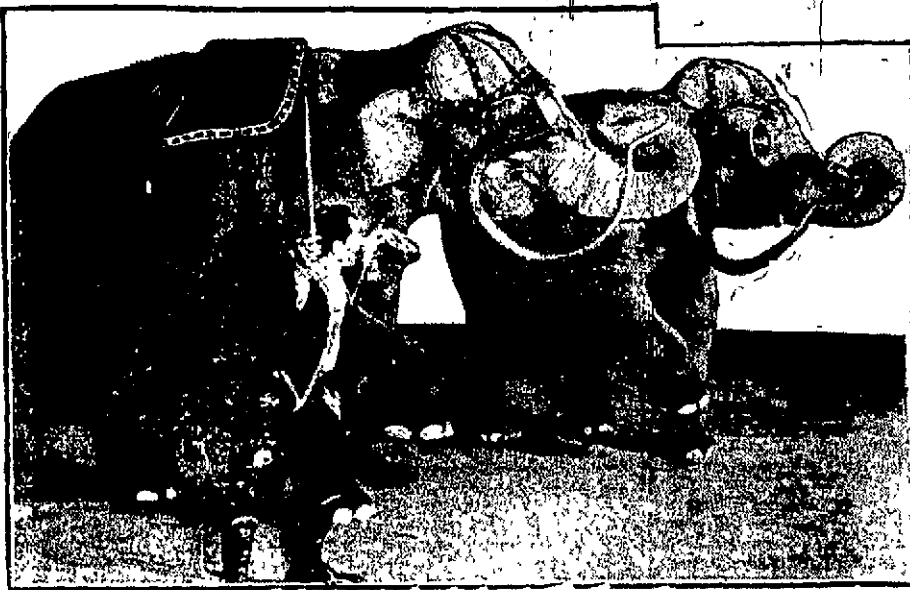

The mean time is determined by astronomical observations. When certain stars pass the seventy-fifth meridian, called the meridian of Washington, it is a certain time. The operator watches for the stars through a telescope, the field of which is covered with fine wires.

As the stars reach a certain point in transit the operator presses a key in his hand. A contact is made and recorded on a chronograph. The chronograph consists of a cylinder covered with paper. A fountain pen rests on the paper. It is held by an arm attached to the mechanism. The cylinder revolves once a minute, and the pen moves along the surface of the paper, making a spiral line.

A sidereal clock of the finest make is running in a vault underneath the observatory. With each tick of the clock there is a contact of two points. These two points are attached to wires that lead to an electro-magnet attached to the arm that holds the pen of the chronograph. The clock is so adjusted that each minute the pen jumps to one side. Consequently there is a break in the line.

There are other breaks, too, when the observer watches the stars cross the lines in the field of the telescope. The mean time thus recorded for each star, after being corrected for errors, is the clock time of the star's transit. Whatever difference there is between the clock time and the sidereal time marked by the transit of the stars is the error of the clock. From these astronomical observations the sidereal time is obtained. The error amounts to but little, rarely being more than a few one-hundredths to ten one-hundredths of a second.

The time of sending a flash over the wire is practically nothing. A flash has reached Greenwich, England, in three-tenths of a second.

RETIRING ADMIRAL, ONE OF THE OLDEST OF OUR SEA DOGS.

After a longer term of sea service than any other officer now on the active list of the United States Navy, Rear Admiral William T. Swinhurn goes on the retired list this week by reason of the age limitation to service. His retirement does not create a vacancy in the list of admirals, for the reason that his is an extra number, gained by "equivalent and conspicuous conduct in battle in the war with Spain," when he commanded the Helicon.

Admiral Swinhurn has served his country about twenty-six years and four months in a total service in the Navy of forty-three years. His most recent duty was performed as president of the Naval War College at Newport. Before that he commanded the Pacific squadron. Admiral Swinhurn was born in Rhode Island.

FIVE ARE KILLED IN STRIKE RIOTS.

A Number of Others Are Fatally Shot at McKees Rocks.

HUNDREDS OF BULLETS FIRED

Bloody Battle is Fought in the Streets By Hundreds of Angry Men—One State Trooper is Killed in the Melee.

Pittsburg, Aug. 23.—Five men were killed, many fatally shot and scores injured in various ways in two riots between Pressed Steel Car company strikers and their sympathizers on one side and deputy sheriffs and the state constabulary on the other at Schoonville last night. Both riots resulted from the efforts of the striking workmen and their friends to hold up street cars and order passengers into the street.

The Dead:
Deputy Sheriff Harry Exler, shot in first riot.
Trooper John L. Williams of the state constabulary, shot during second riot.
Unknown striker, killed in second riot.
George Milhose, striker, died from bullet in lung.
Adam Gubernat, shot four times during second riot.

Probably fatally wounded: Trooper John C. Smith of Mount Carmel, Pa., shot in left side; Trooper Patrick O'Donnell of Northampton, Mass., shot through the body; Trooper Lucien Jones of Morgantown, W. Va., shot in side and badly stabbed; Adolph Stahl, striker, shot through the left lung; Mike Tysowski, shot three times; Adam Gubernat, shot three times, one bullet inflicting serious wound in stomach; George Henshke, shot through back.

Less seriously wounded: Trooper George M. Kitch of Columbia, Pa., beaten and stabbed; Frank Hamet, striker, shot in shoulder and elbow; Mike Kurshinski, striker, slight bullet wound in head; unknown Russian, striker, shot through temple; unknown woman, shot in neck; John Suter, striker, slight flesh wound in arm; Frank Nemath, striker, clubbed in riot; unknown Polish boy.

Bloody Battle of Half Hour.
Within the short space of a half hour one of the bloodiest battles of its kind in this section of the country had been fought. Prior to that time there had been a calm. Soon after the firing ceased the town once more resumed its unperturbed state and everything was still and quiet save for the clanging of ambulance gongs and the clatter of horses' hoofs as the troopers galloped through the streets seeking to dislodge ambuscades.

It was after Deputy Sheriff Harry Exler had given up his life in a brave battle against the mob that the second and more serious battle followed. In the latter more than 500 shots were fired and for two hours the dead and dying lay in the streets while ambulance crews and assisting physicians risked their lives in penetrating the town, either over the O'Donnovan bridge or by circuitous detours.

Deputy is Ordered Into Street.
Exler was returning to the scene of the strike trouble from his supper when the car was stopped about 8 o'clock at the Schoonville approach to the O'Donnovan bridge and he along with others was ordered into the street.

Exler's refusal caused the mob to make a rush at him. He drew his revolver and when injury or death seemed inevitable Exler opened fire. The first report from Exler's revolver was answered by a volley from the ranks of the mob and he fell, mortally wounded. He continued to fire, for when his body was rescued his revolver was empty and was gripped in his right hand.

Hardly had the mob allowed the other passengers to depart in peace than another island avenue car was seen starting across the O'Donnovan bridge from the other side. By that time the mob was in a frenzy and as the car neared the lower side they formed ten deep across the tracks.

Troopers Williams, Smith, Jones, O'Donnell and Kitch, all of Troop A, state constabulary, were on the car. They had been on a brief furlough. As the mob boarded the car and seized the conductor the men arose to make the fight against the terrible odds. Fear of hitting innocent persons caused the troopers to exercise care. O'Donnell was the first to fall with a bullet through his left side. Trooper Kitch stood over his fallen comrade and gamely opened fire on the mob with a revolver in each hand. Volley after volley was fired at him, but he escaped being shot, though he was terribly stoned and beaten after all his comrades lay wounded at his feet.

Soon after O'Donnell was shot Trooper Williams fell, mortally wounded, after a volley. He gasped a few times and groaned, and finally rolled over on his back—dead. In the excitement his body had been dragged from the car into a dark corner on the bridge.

It was in the defensive attack of the troopers that most of the members of the mob were shot. As they were on temporary absence leave the members of the constabulary carried only firearms of ordinary caliber, or the number of dead would have been much greater.

Troops Are Ordered Out.

There was a lull in the firing for some time. Word of the battle reached Lieutenant Smith of the constabulary and he ordered out his entire force of troopers. As they galloped toward the O'Donnovan bridge the firing was resumed, but when the horsemen, with carbines drawn, came nearer on a wild gallop, the mob broke and fled. They ran in all directions, but many turned to fire a few scattering shots in the direction of the approaching troopers. The sharp report of revolvers was heard through Schoonville. It was ominous to the terrified people in the hamlet and none ventured outdoors. Fear for the safety of husband or father nearly drove them mad, yet none would risk peeping outdoors until the clatter of horses' hoofs indicated that the troopers were masters of the situation and that it was safe to go out.

Even then the fear of ambuscade terrified many. Several innocent persons were wounded in this manner, shots being fired at them from dark retreats as they passed by, heedless of danger.

Find Body of Dead Trooper.
After the firing had ceased it developed that part of the mob had congregated at the wide bend in the bridge. Frantic over the disappearance of Trooper Williams, the horsemen made a dash to the spot. His body lay there almost under the heels of the mob.

Many of the victims were taken into the office of Dr. R. Hanover, whose office is in the Victor bank building. The wounded persons received there were mostly strikers, and of the number two were dying when brought in.

ONE OYSTER ENOUGH.

He Swallowed It Alive and Had to Kill It After It Was Dead.

A farm laborer from the interior on his visit to London dropped into a small oyster shop where a number of men were eating raw oysters. The extreme satisfaction displayed on the faces of those about him created longings of a gustatory nature in the new arrival, who edged his way up to the counter in anticipation of eating a real live, juicy oyster.

It was the first time he had seen an oyster, and he became at once interested, and when the shellfish had been finally unsealed he proceeded to balance it on the end of his fork, then, with a look of extreme satisfaction, snipped it down.

"Great Scott!" shouted a man standing near him. "You haven't swallowed the oyster alive, have you?"

There was a horrible pause. "That critter will eat right through you!" shouted another.

By this time the poor countryman was shaking with fear and horror. He commenced to have terrible pains in his abdomen and was soon doubled up in his agony. He begged some one to go for a doctor to get the thing out.

He continued to grow worse, when some one suggested that he take a dose of tobacco sauce, which it was claimed would kill the object that was creating such terrible commotion in his internal arrangement.

He grasped the bottle with avidity and took a draft. His condition, which before had been alarming to the victim, now assumed a serious phase to the perpetrators of the hoax.

The man gasped and choked. He became black in the face, and tears were running down his face, when some one thrust a bottle of oil into his mouth, and he was forced to drink copious drafts.

The effect was magical. The oyster was evidently "dead." He became more composed, and when he finally recovered his breath he said: "We killed it. But when that darned stuff got into my stomach that oyster rushed around as if a shark was after it."—London Scraps.

A Duck of a Man.

Ellen Terry and Mr. Balfour met, for the first time at the table of Henry W. Lucy in London. During the ensuing conversation Miss Terry mentioned a strongly silent. Presently the English leader had to leave for the house of commons, and Ellen Terry it last found her tongue. Her host was relieved to find that who had not been bored. Bringing her closed hand down on the table, she exclaimed with a glance toward the door through which Mr. Balfour had passed, "I think that's a duck of a man!"

Advantages.

"I suppose you are glad to be free again?"
"The ex-convict sidestepped a trolley car, dodged an auto and looked nervously toward a clanging ambulance."
"Oh, of course, of course," he said. "But let me tell you a man in prison feels mighty safe."

An Ample Test.

The Insurance Agent—Sure your heart isn't weak? The Insured One—Oh, yes, yes. The Agent—Ever test it? The Insured—Yes, indeed. I watched a fifteen inning ball game with the score 1 to 1.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

A Nose For the Truth.

Exact truthfulness, according to a writer in the London Sketch, had its proper reward in the following instance:

Teacher—Now, can you tell me what the olfactory organ is? Boy—Plense, sir, no, sir. Teacher—Quite right.

AMERICAN DUCHESS AND HER HUSBAND, WHO MAY BE RECONCILED.

It has been reported again that the Duchess of Marlborough and her husband, Lord Charles, have been separated for three years. Their younger son, Lord Ivor, Churchill, is in delicate health, and it is believed that he is suffering from lung trouble. His condition may help to bring about the reconciliation of his parents, both of whom are devoted to the lad. He is in his eleventh year. His elder brother, the heir to the dukedom, bearing the courtesy title of Marquis of Blandford, is twelve years old. The wedding of the Duke of Marlborough and Miss Constance Vanderbilt was the feature of the social season of New York in the winter of 1906. The mother of the Duchess is now the widowed Mrs. Oliver H. Belmont. She and Mr. Vanderbilt were divorced. He has also been remarried since.

GRANGER'S PICNIC A GREAT SUCCESS.

Patrons of Husbandry Met in Second Annual Outing at Scottdale.

FOR JACOBS CREEK CHURCH

There Will Be a Lawn Fete on Saturday Evening—Weimer Family Reunion at Shady Grove—Howard Robinson's Educated Goose.

SCOTSDALE, Aug. 23.—The picnic held by Eureka Grange, Patrons of Husbandry, of this community, was a great success on Saturday and attracted a big crowd of the grangers and their friends to the Kuster grove just out of town, where the crowd enjoyed the day in splendor, speaking and a capital dinner. It was the second annual event of the kind and arrangements will be made for another one next year. The program of speaking opened by music and invocation. Those who took part were L. E. Keller of Summit village, who delivered the address of welcome. Rev. D. W. Michael, pastor of the Lutheran Church of Scottdale, made an eloquent response. Rev. W. H. Guyer, pastor of the Church of God of Alverton, spoke on "Average Crops," in his usual happy and thoughtful way. Attorney C. Ward Elcher of Greensburg spoke on the "Farmer as a Citizen," taking Deputy Attorney General Jesse B. Cunningham's subject, the latter being unable to be present, as was Judge L. W. Doty, for whom Mr. Elcher really appeared. Rev. B. W. Hutchinson, pastor of a western Methodist Episcopal Church, who is visiting friends here, took Judge Doty's topic, "Education For the Modern Farmer," and handled the subject in telling fashion. The meeting was one which reflected much credit upon the farming element of the community, and was of profit to them.

The Weimer Reunion.

Chairman Jonas M. Kennell, of Scottdale, announces that it is desired that every one attend the Weimer family reunion at Shady Grove park on Thursday, and makes public invitation to all relatives and friends to attend the outing. It is difficult to get invitations of all of them, so that the newspapers are rolled upon to spread the news, where the addresses of family members are not known. The picnic will be a basket one so that everyone is invited to pack a basket and join in. There will be special cars leaving Mt. Pleasant at 9:30, from Scottdale at 10 and from Conneltsville at 10:30 o'clock Thursday morning.

For the Creek Church.

There was a meeting of the official board of the Jacobs Creek Methodist Episcopal Church at Forster & Stoner's store on Saturday evening to discuss the repainting of the church building, which needs some new flooring put down, some painting, a new coal house, and other improvements. Rev. Archibald Auld, the pastor, presided.

and a committee consisting of James B. Flatts and Harvey H. Newingham was appointed to inquire into the cost of making the repairs and improvements. There will be a lawn fete given at the church on Saturday evening to start the raising of the funds to do the work, and everyone is cordially invited to be present. Rev. E. L. Earnest, pastor of the Evangelical Church of Scottdale, preached there yesterday morning. At Wesley Chapel Rev. J. L. Sulvey and Rev. B. W. Hutchinson were the ministers at the two services.

Ligonier's Educated Goose.

Howard Robinson, who used to live here, where he was employed as a teller in the mills and boarded at the Hill House, and now landlord of the Ligonier House, at Ligonier, is the owner of an educated goose that is a marvel in the world of feathers, according to stories told of the bird. Mr. Robinson received a lot of poultry last fall to feed his guests and among the lot was a common dark colored goose, who finally became such a pet that no one would kill it.

CABINET MEN AT BEVERLY.

Confer With Mr. Taft at the Summer White House.

PRESIDENT HAS BUSY DAY

Makeup of New Tariff Board, Changes in Interstate Commerce Act And Sherman Anti-Trust Law Are Considered.

Beverly, Mass., Aug. 23.—The cares of state weighed too heavily on President Taft to permit more than an hour's absence from the summer White House, and it was not until the sun was setting that business gave way to pleasure and the big motor car whirled the chief executive away from a cabinet meeting for a drive along the Essex county shore with Mrs. Taft.

Secretary of the Treasury MacVeagh and Attorney General Wickersham and Secretary of the Navy Meyer discussed for an hour or more the intricate and delicate questions of the personnel of the new tariff board, the changes in the interstate commerce and anti-trust acts, and some economic measures which have been instituted in the navy department.

The makeup of the new tariff board was discussed in detail and a list of forty or more names for the three places was carefully examined. The cabinet paused for quite a little while over the name of James B. Reynolds, assistant secretary of the treasury, before hastening to the others. And it is thought probable that the Massachusetts tariff rate expert may be further considered. No definite action, however, will be taken until a more complete cabinet meeting is held.

Regarding the proposed changes in the interstate commerce act, it is stated that the efforts of the present administration will be toward lifting from the shoulders of the present board the work of investigating rates and alleged violations of the act and shifting such labors to the department of commerce.

After a long consideration of the Sherman anti-trust act and in the light of hundreds of decisions, the administration is first in the conviction that only the most carefully considered changes, in even the wording of the different sections of the act, can be suggested to congress and that those suggestions should deal only with the application of cases which it is believed were never in contemplation by the framers of the original statute.

The retrenchment plans which Secretary Meyer has inaugurated in the navy department are expected to take definite shape before congress meets through the reports of the three boards which are making rigid investigations along such lines.

REVOLUTION NOT FEARED

So Declares Mexican Minister of Foreign Affairs.

Washington, Aug. 23.—"There never has been any fear of a revolution in Mexico," declares Senator Murfitt, the Mexican minister of foreign affairs, in a dispatch received at the Mexican embassy.

The Mexican ambassador, Senor de la Barra, said this ought to dispose of the rumors which had been circulated of late indicating the probability of an uprising in his country as a result of the approaching presidential campaign. The ambassador declared that the whole country will firmly sustain the candidacy of Diaz for the presidency for the next electoral term and that the patriotism of the people was such that they would not brook any interruption to the era of progress on which Mexico had entered.

$1,000,000 FIRE.

Many Buildings in Decatur, Ill., Business Section Destroyed.

Decatur, Ill., Aug. 23.—A score of business buildings were burned and a dozen others were damaged by a fire that swept along the business portion of East Main, Merchant and Water streets. The total damage is placed at $1,000,000 with insurance of about 80 per cent. The fire was the worst in the history of the city. The city reservoir was almost exhausted by the fire fighters.

While the fire was at its height a blaze was discovered in the engine room of the Decatur hotel a half block west of the main fire. There was a panic among the guests, who realized that the firemen already had more than they could handle. Prompt work by hotel employees and guests extinguished the flames before they had spread to any great extent.

Springfield sent an engine and a fire crew to aid Decatur's three engines, but this help was offset by the loss under falling walls of several hundred feet of hose.

Rebuilding of the burned area will start just as quick as the ruins cool sufficiently to permit men to remove the debris. The only person injured during the fire was Robert Lunsford, a driver of a hook and ladder truck.

DEADLY FEUD OVER DOG.

One Farmer Killed and Several Seriously Hurt in Fight.

Charlotte, N. C., Aug. 23.—As the result of one of the fiercest feud fights in the history of Mecklenburg county at Huntersville Reece Hucks, a prominent young farmer of Croft, lies dead; Lester Hucks, a brother; Charles Cox and Gilbreath and Batts Davis, neighbors and farmers, are seriously out and shot and several others slightly wounded.

For a year there has been bad blood between the Hucks brothers and the Coxes growing out of the shooting of Davis' dog by Charles Cox. Members and friends of both families attended a farmers' institute at Huntersville and Davis and Charles Cox met in front of the postoffice and renewed the trouble.

Cox was getting the better of the fight when the Hucks brothers appeared. The row then became general. Ed Cox is said to have done all the shooting, putting three bullets into Reece Hucks, who died a half hour after being transferred to the Charlotte hospital, shooting Lester Hucks in the back and his brother Charles, by mistake, in the arm. Knives were freely used and blood flowed freely.

CHANGES TO BE MADE

Officials of Indianapolis Speedway Will Make Track Safer.

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 23.—The costly lesson of last week's automobile races on the new Indianapolis motor speedway where five lives were lost may result in important changes in the contest rules of the American Automobile association.

The management of the speedway announces that it will recommend to the contest committee of the A. A. A. that the rules be changed so as to provide that no driver shall be permitted to continue in a long distance race for more than one hundred miles at a stretch and that a driver must submit to a physical examination before re-entering such a race after he has been rested.

These changes in the rules it was announced will be enforced at the Indianapolis speedway without the approval of the National Automobile organization. The fences around the speedway track are to be moved back forty feet. At the track edge a guard rail will be put up. On the intermediate strip only policemen and soldiers are to be permitted during the races.

REMAINS IN HIS ROOM

Rough Weather Keeps Mr. Harriman
From Liner's Decks.

On Board Steamship Kaiser Wilhelm II (Via Wireless Via Cape Race), Aug. 23.—E. H. Harriman has remained in his suite of rooms ever since he embarked at Cherbourg on Aug. 13, homeward bound after treatment at Bad Gastein. His last wish as he left France—"My only hope is that the voyage back will be as good as that coming over"—has not been realized. The weather has been so rough and disagreeable that a stronger man well might prefer to remain indoors.

Nevertheless, Mr. Harriman shows need of the "after cure," which it is understood he will take at Arden, his country place, as soon as he lands. His movements, though not unfeeling, are those of fatigue. He is pale and has the appearance of having recently lost weight. All food served to him in his suite is carefully prepared in advance under orders from his physician, Dr. Lylin.

McLean, dying; Miss Dorothy McLean, broken arms, internally injured; Miss Jeanette McDonald, 283 Hamlet street, Chicago, right thigh and both arms broken, recovery improbable; Miss Harriet McDonald, both arms broken, recovery doubtful; Oscar Scott, chauffeur, arms broken, will recover.

The big touring car was hurrying the party to New York, where they were to take a train for the west. They had been to Princeton, where arrangements were made for the entrance of young McLean to Princeton university in the fall.

BEACHED AFTER COLLISION

Norman B. Ream.

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 23.—A Free Press special from Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., says:

The 410 foot freight steamer Senator of Detroit was beached on the upper end of the middle ground in the St. Marys river opposite Detroit as the result of a collision with the steamer Norman B. Ream of Cleveland.

The Senator had a large hole stove in her starboard side abreast of the engine room and there was barely time to run her on the middle ground before she filled with water. No one was injured in the collision. The Ream's stem was twisted to starboard and her anchors were carried away, but she is still seaworthy.

WIND SPOILS AEROPLANE RACE.

Aviation Week Is Opened at Rheims,
France.

WRIGHT MACHINE SUCCESSFUL

In Eliminating Trials For Selection of French Representatives of James Gordon Bennett Cup, Only Two
Were Able to Qualify.

Rheims, France, Aug. 23.—The spectacle of six aeroplanes, simultaneously winging their flight in huge circles over the plain at Betheny was a remarkable feature of the opening day of aviation week. At the finish of the flight there was a great burst of cheers over this wonderfully impressive exhibition of man's mastery of the air which dispelled all doubt in the minds of the thousands present that a new era of locomotion confronts the world.

A storm left the sky banked with clouds with intermittent showers and high winds and the eliminating trials for the selection of the French representatives of the Gordon Bennett international cup, which is to be contested next Saturday, were spoiled. Only LeFebvre, who less than two months ago adopted aeroplane piloting as a profession with a Wright biplane; Bleriot, Dolagrange, Esnault-Pelteri and Captain LeFebvre braved the dusty puffs. LeFebvre was the only one who succeeded in negotiating the complete circle of the course. He remained in the air sixteen minutes in a twenty-five mile wind, breaking the speed record heretofore held by T. Tisandier, covering ten kilometres in 8 minutes, 55 4-5 seconds.

Bleriot Qualifies.

Of the others entered in the trials Bleriot was only able to cover a sufficient distance to qualify, thus leaving the committee to select the remaining representatives from the best achievements in the subsequent events. The rain and wind prevented any attempt in the two other events on the program—a speed contest of three laps and a lap contest, for which any round counts—until shortly before dark. Then suddenly the rain ceased and the wind fell to a dead calm. The sky pilots soon were busy in getting their machines out of the shed and the air buzzed with the hum of motor exhausts.

There was great disappointment among the Americans at the failure of Glenn H. Curtiss to appear, but he explained that he has only one machine and cannot afford to take chances of a mishap. He is reserving himself, he says, for the Gordon Bennett cup, which he wants to take back to America. Curtiss is the favorite for that event, as the experts believe he has the best choice if he can go the distance.

Not a single accident marred the day and the crowds returned to Rheims enthusiastic over the new sport and the future of the aeroplanes.

PAYMASTER SHOT

Slayer Robs Him of $2,000 and Escapes to West Virginia Mountains.

Bluefield, W. Va., Aug. 23.—Shot from ambush by an unknown assassin whose motive undoubtedly was robbery, W. H. Oakley, paymaster of the Franklin Construction company of Rock, W. Va., died just as his slayer took from him $2,000 in cash which he was preparing to the company's employees.

The murderer fled to the mountains, closely pursued by a posse of fifty men determined upon summary vengeance. The shooting occurred within five hundred feet of the express office at Rock, Oakley had just secured the money for his payroll there and was on his way to pay off the men when he was dropped in his tracks by a shotgun charge fired by an unseen hand. Several persons saw Oakley fall, but before they could reach his side the slayer had left his place of concealment by the roadside, had robbed his victim and had made good his escape.

NEGRO'S PRESENCE OF MIND

Thwarts Highwaymen From Robbing
Coal Company's Pay Wagon.

Bluefield, W. Va., Aug. 23.—The presence of mind of a negro driver thwarted the attempt of ten alleged Potomac Consolidated Coal company's pay wagon containing $15,000 between the Norfolk and Shamokin collieries.

The robbers opened fire on the wagon under cover of the coke ovens which line the mountain road. The driver fell backward in the wagon to escape the fire, but before he did so he whipped up the team of mules causing them to run away. When the robbers saw they had failed to stop the wagon they fled into the mountains, but three of their number were captured later at Annawlat, W. Va. A posse of several hundred men are in pursuit of the other seven.

The Cokers won a brilliant game from Uniontown Saturday and while the champs were crippled, the regular team could not have played better, ball against Sweeney's braves, Miller and Hilley were out of the game, but Wilson, who went into center field, put up an all star exhibition and Cowan was there with the goods on third. Doc Carles proved himself a versatile player by covering second even better than diminutive Jimmy Miller could have done.

Two timely bingles in the first inning settled the contest and while the champs hit the ball hard, there were men in the field who pulled down the drives and made them practically worthless. Such an exhibition of fielding has never been seen on the local grounds. The Cokers appeared everything in sight and their three errors were on difficult chances and did not cost anything. Luck was breaking with Sweeney and his men for once, at least.

Morgan, Myers and Ike Francis each contributed a mite towards saving Elmer Cannon from defeat, pulling off spectacular plays that would have been costly if they had not been properly executed. On the other hand the Champlains gave Roberts perfect support and only timely hitting in the opening inning lost for the college boy.

After two men were down in the opening session Kid Hagan poked one between second and center. Carles, covering second, tried to save Wilson, a green man in middle, and went after the ball. He muffed it after a hard run and the Kid made second. From this cushion he trotted home on Dave Calhoun's clean bingle which flew past McCloskey about 20 feet in the air. That one tally was the sum and substance of the scoring as both pitchers tightened up in the pinches.

Not that Uniontown wasn't dangerous. Every inning saw a thrill or a chill of some sort, but each time the Cokers wavered they recovered in time to stop any trouble.

Even in the first inning Uniontown was dangerous. After Rudolph had been retired on a drive to Myers, Gribben hit deep to Gilligan and Cannon failed to cover first, the runner making the bag. Phillips then singled. Joe made a bluff to steal second when Fralley threw to Cannon and Elmer relayed the ball to Kid Hagan, Gribben being caught off the sack by a yard. Carles hit to Dunn, who tagged Phillips and the side was retired.

In the fifth inning Myers pulled off the first sensational play of the day. Carlo Carles hit a terrific drive to the fence but Dutch caught the ball in his bare hand when it bounded back and hurried it to the infield in time to hold Carles on first. This is the first time this season that a drive of such force has not been good for two or three bases, and only lightning work by Myers held the big first baseman at the initial stop.

In the seventh inning there was another clever play. With Carles on first, Cowan hit what looked like a safe one to right. Calhoun hustled the ball to Ike Francis and Carles was forced.

Both sides had chances to score in the eighth. After Rudolph had gone out Gribben reached first on Dunn's error. Carles hit right for two bases but Gribben was held on third. With two on and but one out, Carles hit to Hagan, who threw Gribben out at the plate. McCloskey fouled to Gilligan.

The Cokers had a good chance when Cannon singled and stole in the eighth. Gilligan sacrificed him to third but Morgan and Hagan were retired on flies to Phillips.

The ninth inning was alone worth the price of admission. Three times the Cokers chances were jeopardized. Carnes opened the inning with a smashing drive to center which Morgan anchored after a hard run. Cowan reached first on a grounder to deep short which Ike Francis fumbled, and which he could hardly have heaved to first in time to get the man. Harry Wallace batted for Wilson and smashed the ball between center and left for what looked to be a two bagger. Again Morgan was on the job and made a sensational catch of the drive. Roberts singled and Cowan reached third. Then Rudolph smashed an awful drive to left which Myers caught around his shoe laces and the game was over.

In the sixth inning, to revert back a session or two, Ike Francis used his head to good advantage. With Phillips on second and Carles on first, McCloskey hit a sharp grounder to deep short. Ike fumbled the ball and tumbled over, which caused Phillips to hike home. Ike recovered himself quickly and pegged accurately to the pan, nailing off by a yard. The score:

Short Arm Jabs.

Cannon pitched well.
Joe Phillips was the stellar slugger for Uniontown.

Roberts had Gilligan's goat the first two times he came up.

In the sixth Morgan and Hagan tried to sacrifice but Roberts got the man at second each time.

Cokers are unfortunate with the hit-and-run. Five times last week double plays resulted from the play. Dutch Myers had his eye on the game. His fielding was there, too. He swacked 'em hard.

Dave Calhoun's only bingle was a clean smash over McCloskey's head. It scored the only run.

Cal pulled in a couple of nice flies in right, by the way, and killed a single by a quick throw to second.

The Herald throws several spasms over the way Carles played second. How about the way Gilligan is covering first?

The Bingle Man also thinks Wilson pulled off a wonderful stunt by making a double play. Myers was just second unit at that Wilson could hardly get the ball to first.

McCloskey was afraid to let Wallace pitch here. He knows the Cokers eat southpaws alive.

That man Gribben is way off in his throwing. Even Elmer Cannon stole off him. Fralley could have done so, had he reached first safely.

Great fielding that holds a hit to the fence down to a lowly single. That's what Myers did. Carnes nearly collapsed when he saw it.

Ike Francis played a swell game in the field in spite of his crippled arm. He recovered after a fumble in time to nail Phillips at the pan.

Morgan anchored enough deep stuff in the ninth inning to make the game worth while. Those Champlains haven't anything on him in fielding.

Big Dutch Rudolph didn't get a solitary bingle but he smashed some drives that would have done damage but for sensational fielding. Myers killed two apparently safe hits from his bat while Morgan landed a third. Levy Cowan played a better game at third than Hilley, and that is saying a good bit for the Champlains' utility man. He could not hit, but Hilley isn't a Hans Wagner either.

Kid Hagan put up a bang-up exhibition at third base. The Kid has all the hot corner artists in this league faded.

been used instead of the hit-and-run. Such is baseball.

Roberts pitched a swell game and this was never better demonstrated than in the ninth inning when Cannon singled and stole with none out, yet could not score. Gilligan sacrificed and then Morgan and Hagan flew to right field. Morgan's hit was too short to take any chances on scorers.

"The game was short and sweet, being negotiated in an hour and 25 minutes.

Al Weddige got through the game without any kicks being made on his decisions. There were very few close plays in the contest.

Just like Fairmont to take a brace about the time a Connellsville series is on.

"What's doing in the way of amusement?" asks the newcomer of the old inhabitant of Hades.

"Baseball game every afternoon," answers the old inhabitant.

"Baseball? You don't mean it! That's great. I was a fan from way back on earth. On the square, do you have baseball every day?"

"Sure thing."

"By gigger! This place suits me. Baseball! Say this can't be hell, then."

"Yes, it is. The home team always loses."—Lila.

Man's Dress as the Expression of His Individuality.

All Things Cannot in Reason
Be Becoming to All Men.

NOT UNTIL a man has grasped the fundamental principle that as men differ so must their manner of dress differ, will he be truly well dressed.

To adopt a fashion regardless as to whether it conforms agreeably and appropriately to the individual is mere foppishness.

A man of forty should not wear colors suitable to a youngster. The short man should wear stripes and the tall man should dodge them.

This is not a store of fleeting fads, but rather one of matured modes. Our clothing stocks comprehend only apparel that is absolutely correct in every line. Models differ radically, yet every one of them is distinctly correct.

Of course a man cannot choose apparel expressive of his personality from stocks that are too small to contain all of the new styles.

Right here is where we aim to surpass. Our stocks present clothing from the foremost style makers of this country. Some men prefer the extreme in dress, others demand the conservative and there is a middle class that demand a style mid-way between these two extremes.

One certain maker excels in the making of each of these styles, and to him we go with the fullest assurance that his models present the maximum of good style and tailoring.

Whatever you choose let it be subtly expressive of "YOU." Select a positive color, for negative colors are weak. Know what becomes you and dress accordingly. That is the secret of feeling and looking fit to your finger tips. We are positive that there is not in all Fayette county another clothing stock that can so fully and successfully meet the requirements of the man who makes the most of himself, his looks and his opportunities.

We take decided pleasure in directing your interest to our superb showing of new Fall and Winter models from such fashion shops as that of Alfred Benjamin & Company, of New York, and the Hirsch-Wire Company of Chicago. These models will appeal strongly to men who require the conservative in dress of this country. The price range of the Benjamin models is from $20 to $40, and of the Hirsch-Wickwire models from $22.50 to $35.

We wish to further state that in this showing we present a complete line of models from each of these makers

THE BUFFALO.

A Good Surveyor and One of Our First Roadmakers.

The buffalo was a good surveyor. It did not reason out why it should go in a certain direction, but its sure instinct took it by the easiest and most direct path, over high lands and low, to the salt licks and water courses which were its goal. The authors of "The Story of the Great Lakes," Edward Channing and M. F. Lansing, say that the buffalo observed something like the principles which today govern the civil engineer.

As soon as the explorer landed on the southern shores of Lakes Erie, Michigan and Superior he came upon buffalo roads or "traces." Sometimes these were narrow ditches, a foot wide and from six inches to two feet deep, trodden down by the impact of thousands of hoofs as herd after herd of buffaloes had stamped along in single file behind their leaders.

When the first path became too deep for comfort because of repeated travel the buffaloes would abandon it and begin a second path alongside the first, and thus the frequented traces would be gradually widened.

Again, an immense herd of these heavy animals would crash through the forest, breaking in their rapid progress a broad, deep road from one feeding ground to another. As this route would be followed again and again by this and other herds, it would become level and hard as a rock, so that there was great rejoicing in pioneer settlements when the weary road-makers, struggling with log-causesways and swampy hollows, came upon a firm, solid buffalo trace. Nor was this an uncommon experience.

The line of many of these roads is followed today by our railroads and canals, as it was followed by our log roads and turnpikes.

The buffalo followed the level of the valley. He swerved round high points whenever it was possible, crossing the ridges and watersheds at the best natural divides and gorges, and he crossed from one side of a stream of water to the other repeatedly in order to avoid climbing up from the level after the fashion of our modern loop railways.

Making Hubby Appreciative.

A doctor tells of a note he received from a woman saying that her husband, who was about to make him a professional call, found constant fault with the dinner she prepared for him. She appealed to the physician for aid. The doctor examined his patient, who had a slight attack of indigestion, and told him to cut out luncheons, to eat nothing but a slice of toast and a cup of tea. The scheme worked excellently. Of course hubby returns home in the evening, eats everything in sight and votes his wife's cooking even better than mother-used to make.—Boston Record.

All is not false which at first seems so.—Southey.
